SHOT AT MEN

GOODBYE

And Killed Horse Valued At To Hopes of Our Public Building This Year.
$150.00.

Curtis Brewer and John Henley, Crofton recluses, hired a double team from Mr. G. C. Bowles, the Crofton liveryman, last Sunday and drove to the Empire neighborhood, stopping at a friend's house. While the men were in the house two other negroes whose names were not learned, got into the vehicle and started off. Brewer called to them to stop, but no attention was paid to him and he fired at them as they drove off. The ball struck one of the horses, killing the animal. The horse was worth $150.00.

BILL NYE

Subject of Paper at Athenaeum To-night.

The February meeting of the Athenaeum will be held this evening at seven o'clock, at Hotel Latham. There will be only one paper on the regular program.

Mr. Irvin L. Smith will write on "Bill Nye." Two vacancies in the membership will probably be filled.

SQUABBLE
IS OVER

Third Baptist Church Controversy Is Finally Satisfactorily Settled

CLARENCE WELLS' WORK.

Rev. C. C. Carroll Reinstated as Pastor, Also Deacons, at Services Last Night.

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 31.—The long drawn out differences that have been existing in the Third Baptist church have been amicably adjusted between the factions. The injunction suit that was brought on last Wednesday afternoon by the anti-Carroll forces against the Carroll forces is to be dismissed at the first day of the approaching February term.

Judge Gordon of Madisonville, who was to hear the injunction, proceeding at the courthouse in Owensboro on Thursday morning, was notified this afternoon by Judge Birkhead that his services would not be needed.

The compromise, was brought about by the splendid and magnificent work of Clarence Wells, a member of the First Baptist church, who was selected and agreed upon by both factions of the Third Baptist church to settle the controversy.

Both the pastor, Rev. C. C. Carroll and the deacons are to be reinstated to their respective offices and the rules to which some of the members object so strenuously are also to be rescinded. In other words, according to Mr. Wells, who brought about the compromise, the slate is to be wiped clean, and the church left free to take any action it may in the future see proper to do.

Born On Passenger Train.

Just as Illinois Central passenger train No. 101 arrived at Union station Sunday night, Mrs. R. M. Peyton of Hopkinsville, who in company with her husband, had started on a visit to her mother in Greenville, Miss., gave birth to a fine boy baby. The child was born before the mother could be removed to Riverside hospital. The visit of the stork caused a delay in the plans of the couple.—Paducah News Democrat.

HOUSE AGAINST TIPPING

Other Bills That Have Passed One House or the Other.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 31.—The Eaton direct primary bill passed the senate this afternoon without amendment, the vote being 37 to 0.

Akin anti-tipping bill, providing $10 to $20 fine for violation, passed the House 99 to 7.

Louisville curfew bill was defeated in the House 63 to 9.

Senate passed bill providing for school inspection and increasing superintendent's salary.

NEW PRESIDENT

Chosen to Head The Planters Hardware Company.

Mr. R. F. Rives has resigned the presidency of the Planters Hardware Co. and at a meeting of the directors Tuesday Mr. Gabe L. Campbell was elected to the vacancy. Mr. Rives is in poor health and could not give his attention to the business, which is constantly growing.

Mr. Campbell was until two years ago County Clerk and is one of the county's successful planters and financiers. The Planters Hardware Co. was organized in 1904 and has done a big business from the start, under the capable management of Councilman W. S. Harned. It has for a year or more been on a strictly cash basis and has wonderfully developed under the new plan of cash prices and close margins.

HOLD UP MAN

Still Very Anxious To Give Jailer Mullins The Slip.

Jailer Mullins, the officer who has holdup man "Wm. Gladstone" in custody, found two more steel saws in his possession Tuesday. Two saws previously taken from him had been concealed under a bridge on his leg, which he claimed was sore. How he got the others is not known. He has been put in a cell that is regarded as secure enough to hold him and the bars of which are case hardened. Gladstone's picture has been taken, against his wishes though he finally consented. He is undoubtedly a desperate and dangerous prisoner. Every care is being taken to see that he does not escape until he is tried in March. He is sure to be convicted.

Owensboro Representative.

In the preliminary oratorical contest, Joseph Clint Jenkins, having as his subject Federation of the World, will represent the Owensboro high school in the oratorical contest for western Kentucky, which will be held in that city on February 23.

Genevieve Anita Kaylor, a former Bristol college girl, who less than a year ago, at the age of sixteen, eloped from a local college and was married to E. Milton Kaylor, Jr., young Bristol society man, has filed suit for divorce. Mrs. Kaylor was formerly Miss Genevieve Stone, of Rosedale, Miss., and the elopement and marriage was romantic. A singular coincidence is that only yesterday a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Kaylor at a local hospital. Incompatibility of temperament is understood to be the real cause of the divorce through the grounds alleged are desertion and failure to provide.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION

OF THE
NEW YORK WORLD

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly.

No other Newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price.

The great Presidential campaign will soon begin and you will want the news accurately and promptly.
The World long since established a record for impartiality, and anybody can afford its Thrice-a-Week edition, which comes every other day in the week, except Sunday. It will be of particular value to you now. The Thrice-a-Week World also abounds in other strong features, serial stories, humor, markets, cartoons; in fact, everything that is to be found in a first-class daily.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S
regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the Hopkinsville Kentuckian together for one year for $2.65. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

Stop Those Pains.

Copper Hill, Va.,—Mrs. Ida Conner, of this place, says, "For years I had a pain in my right side, and I was very sick with womanly troubles.
I tried different doctors but could get no relief. I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I took Cardui, and it relieved the pain in my side, and now I feel like a new person. It is a wonderful medicine."
Many women are completely worn-out and discouraged on account of some womanly trouble. Are you?
Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Its record shows that it will help you.
Why wait? Try it today. Ask your druggist about it.

Largest Egg.

The largest egg in the world has recently been on exhibition in the Museum of Natural History, New York. It is the egg of the gigantic extinct bird called Epydornis, which formerly lived in considerable numbers on the Island of Madagascar.
This was a huge wingless creature,
the largest and most formidable bird that ever trod the earth. In life it has been variously estimated to have stood from seven to twelve feet in height, possessing massive and powerful limbs. This bird surpassed the ostrich, the king of modern birds,
both in size and herculean strength, though it closely resembled in build all the members of the family of which the ostrich is a type, such as the emu of Australia, the extinct moa, etc. The Epydornis egg is six times larger than that of the ostrich, having a capacity of two gallons, or the capacity of 150 hen eggs.

The Trials of a Traveler.

cellent remedy." For all stomach, liver or kidney troubles they are unequaled. Only 25 cents at all druggists.

SENTIMENT OF COUNTRY SHOWN

Editorial Comment Proves Woodrow Wilson Is Almost Unanimous Choice for President.

GROWS STRONGER EVERY DAY

Democratic Party Has Opportunity of Signaling Its Return to Power
With the Election of an Ideal Chief Executive.

Significant Missouri Comment.
—Independence (Mo.) Examiner—The Clinton Democrat remarks: "Many Missourians would be glad to see Champ Clark President; others would prefer Jos. W. Folk; but if the nomination has to leave this State rise out of ten Missouri Democrats would prefer Gov. Woodrow Wilson. This is very significant."

Sinister Purpose Apparent.
Raleigh (N. C.) News-Observer—
When you read a New York paper complimenting some Southern man or State for "Conservatism" in the same article that it opposes Woodrow Wilson, it may be well to look and see to what party and business interest
the aforesaid paper belongs.

Michigan for Wilson.
Marquette (Mich.) Minn. Journal—
The New Jersey candidate has a big following among the Democrats of Michigan and stands a fair show of having the Wolverine delegation in the National convention ranged behind his banner.

Wisconsin Seeing the Light.
Milwaukee (Wis.) Journal—Just go ahead and nominate Taft, with Wilson the opposing candidate, and see what happens to the Grand Old Party right here in Wisconsin. There'll be the worst grade-crossing horror that ever happened north of Neenah.

See Wilson as Next President.
Roosevelt (N. M.) Record—The Republican newspapers are afraid of Woodrow Wilson for 1912 and their fear is made manifest in a variety of ways. Since the election of last week when New Jersey did not do so well as it might have done, these papers have taken occasion to renew their attacks on Wilson. But, nevertheless, Woodrow Wilson will be elected president of the United States
next year.

His Worth Recognized.
Long Branch (N. J.) Record—Pictures of great men adorn the editorial sanctum of Editor H. P. Bennett at the Press office. There you will find photos of statesmen of the past, present and future. Governor Wilson, of course, is in the limelight.
Instead of putting Wilson's name under the portrait he has placed there these words: "A Man."

General Trend Toward Wilson.
Winder (Ga.) News—According to the sentiment of the country, as shown by interviews in newspapers as well as editorials, the trend toward the nomination of Gov. Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, for the presidency is growing stronger every day.

They Are Afraid of Him.
Ottawa (Kan.) Republican—It is a significant fact that the Taft newspapers all have a special antipathy for Woodrow Wilson. They make a prominent display of every item of news that seems to favor any other candidate for the Democratic nomination. Wonder why?

Wilson Boom Overshadows All.
Boston (Mass.) Traveler—The Woodrow Wilson boom nowadays is making several other presidential declamations sound like muffled popguns.

Would Draw From Republicans.
Fresno (Cal.) Herald—The nomination of a man like Woodrow Wilson on the Democratic ticket will bring to its support all the really progressive strength of the Republican party.

People for Wilson.
Huntsville (Ala.) Times—Woodrow Wilson is the most favorably talked of presidential candidate in the running. This is because the people are for him.

Highest Type of Democrat.
Houston (Tex.) Chronicle—Signs are multiplying on every side that Woodrow Wilson is the best man for the Democrats to put up, because he is the highest type of Democrat, an American of the character and call-ber of the country's elder statesmen whose names illuminate the pages of our history.

Appeals to Thinking People.
Springfield (Vt.) Reporter—Governor Woodrow Wilson recently said in a public address: "The immediate thing we have got to do is to resume popular government." Irrespective of past party affiliations, or party prospects, this is a pronouncement that will appeal strongly to a great many thinking people. Is it one that the Republican leaders in Vermont and elsewhere can afford to ignore?

And He Has Something to Say.
Knoxville (Tenn.) Sentinel—An exchange is perturbed with fear that Woodrow Wilson may talk too much.
The veiled meaning of this hint is that it is wiser for a candidate to whisper his attitude to the trusts than to take the public into his confidence. However, we can see no objection to public discussion so long as one has anything to say.

ANY SHAPED BY MOTTOES

he Great Napoleon Bonaparte Learned Four When He Attended
a Military School.

In 1784 Bonaparte, then fifteen years old, arrived at the military school of Paris from Brienne, being one of four under the conduct of a minim priest. He mounted 173 steps, carrying his small valise, and reached in the attic, the barrack chamber he was to occupy. This chamber had two beds and a small window opening on the great yard of the school. The young predecessors of Bonaparte had bescrubbed
the whitewashed walls with charcoal and the newcomer could read in this little cell these four inscriptions, which we ourselves read there 35
years ago:

"An epaulet is very long to win."

—De Montgivray.

"The finest day in life is that of a battle."—Vicente de Tintinnac.

"Life is but a prolonged lie."—
Le Chevalier Adolphe Delmas.

"The end of all is six feet of earth."—Le Comte de la Villette.

With the trifling substitution of the word "empire" for "epaulet," these four sentences contain the whole destiny of Bonaparte, and formed a kind of "Mene, Tekel, Upharsin," written in advance upon that wall.

VISITING CARDS IN CHINA

Back in Days of Tong Dynasty They Were in Common Use in Celestial Empire.

It seems to be a fact that visiting cards are of Chinese origin. So long ago as the period of the Tong dynasty (618—907), they were in common use in China, and that is also the date of the introduction of the red "silk cords" which figure so conspicuously on the engagement cards of that country. From very ancient times to the present day, the Chinese have observed the strictest ceremony with regard to the paying of visits. The cards which they use for this purpose are very large,
and usually of a bright red color.
When a Chinaman desires to marry,
his parents intimate the fact to a professional "match maker," who thereupon runs through the list of her visiting acquaintances and selects one whom she considers a fitting bride for her young man, and then calls upon the young woman's parents armed with bridegroom's card, on which is inscribed his ancestral name and the eight symbols which denote the day of his birth.
If the answer is an acceptance of his suit, the bride's card is sent in return, and should the oracles prophesy good concerning the union, the particulars of the engagement are written on two large cards, tied together with red cord.

HIS OLD OCCUPATION.

A short time after Frank Buchanan, a new member of the house from Illinois, had arrived in Washington, he was passing a hotel, to which an addition was being built. The skeleton framework of steel was almost completed, and the mechanics were busy with their electric drills and hammers. Buck threw off his coat, climbed up a ladder to a scaffold,
and said:

"Let me try that electric hammer."

After he had driven home a number of spikes and steel rivets, he climbed down to the street and said he felt like old times.

"That was my business before I went into politics," he explained to his friend.—The Sunday Magazine.

PARADOXICAL TEMPERATURE.

"There is one thing which is oddly contradictory about an engine."
"What is that?"
"When it gets cooled, then it becomes hot."

ON THE FACE OF IT.

"Is it not a dangerous proceeding to try and loot a bank vault?"
"On the contrary, it is something of a safe proposition."

THE PRECISE TERMS.

"How does a military surgeon order a company to be vaccinated?"
"I suppose he orders them to present arms."

SMUG.

Briggs—What is the meaning of the word "smug?"
Waggs—It means a man who is fat and glad of it.—Puck.

THREE THINGS YOU NEED..

First—

"Kentuckian"

A virile, new newspaper with the interest of the entire community at heart. Issues of the day are handled without fear or favor. You will find in this paper an up-to-date department for each member of the family. Clean, honest, straightforward—it is a paper your family should not be without.

Second—

Technical World Magazine

Is the one magazine that not only entertains in a fascinating manner, but which also instructs. It is the magazine for the busy business man, or for the person who wants to kill away a summer's afternoon, and be agreeably informed at the same time. It is profusely illustrated, and tells in a simple and interesting way of the discoveries of scientists, the achievements of inventors, the feats of engineers and explorers, and the opening of every new field of human endeavor. What Jack London says:—"I have just chanced upon my first copy of TECHNICAL WORLD MAGAZINE. There isn't anything like it. I want more, and I cannot wait for them to come, so I am sending you herewith check for which please enter my subscription and send me immediately the last two years' back numbers."

Third—

A Fine Atlas

This one is just off the presses. This is the year to obtain a new atlas. The 1910 Census has just been completed, this atlas contains the official figures. 128 pages of 3 color maps brought right down to date—every map giving the results of the most recent surveys. All railroads are shown and named and maps of all large cities are included. There are 21 double page maps showing in detail portions of the U. S. and Canada. Dimensions 10 1/2 x 13 1/2. Bound in stiff linen—Silver Leaf Title—printed on heavy plate paper. Sells regularly for $3.00. A splendid gift.

Doctor Defends Meat Eaters.

In his recently published work Dr. Robert Hutchinson observes that energy is not to be confused with muscular strength. A grass fed cart horse is strong; a corn fed hunter is energetic. Energy is a property of the nervous system; strength of the muscles. Muscles give us the power to do work; the nervous system gives us the initiative to start it. Muscles do their work upon carbohydrates (starch foods), which are the characteristic nutritive constituents of vegetable foods; the brain appears to require nitrogen, which can only be obtained in a concentrated form from animal sources. If proteid food, therefore, be regarded as a nervous food, a diet rich in it will make for intellectual capacity and bodily energy, and it is not without reason that the more energetic races of the world have been meat eaters.

The Actor in China.

If the new regime in China succeeds in abolishing class distinction in civil administration it will have accomplished a difficult task. Hitherto three classes of the population have been esteemed by the Chinese "lowest of the low," these being actors, barbers and chiropodists. These and their children are barred from becoming Mandarins. Their grandsons, according to the letter of the law, are permitted to hold government posts, but this permission has seldom been granted. Some years ago a grandson of Cheng Chang Keng, the most famous Pekin actor of his day, was appointed one of the secretaries of the Chinese legation in Berlin. The appointment aroused a storm of protest among official circles in China, and but for the support of the empress dowager would have been revoked.

Locking Up the Stable.

The chancellor of the exchequer was putting up the iron shutters while the first Lord of the Admiralty stowed away the show case.

"There's no use takin' chances," says the chancellor. "Britannia's shop must be protected at all hazards."

"Right you are," remarked the admiralty chap. "W'y, them stone-thrownin' lydlies busted enough window glass on their last sufferin' rampryge to build a battleship an' arf a dozen colliers."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Promoting Pleasant Impressions.

"What is leave to print?" inquired the lady who has the art of seeming interested.

"Leave to print," replied Senator Sorghum, "is something that enables a man to pretend that he has delivered a speech, and which also enables his friends to pretend that they have made themselves familiar with its contents."

Explained.

Small Robert did not know the meaning of death, so when he was told that a man across the street was dead he asked his five-year-old sister what it meant to be dead. After a moment's hesitation she answered: "Why, to be dead means that—that you are all in."

KIND PEASANTS OF BRITTANY

Will Willingly Share With You Contents of Cupboard and Will Not Ask for Pay.

In Brittany all peasants carry their own knives; and as for forks, they have no use for them. George Wharton Edwards tells, in "Brittany and the Bretons," of a visit to an inn where he met with the proverbial Breton hospitality.

An old withered Breton woman sat at the fireside, busily knitting at a jersey of blue wool, and three men sat at a table, playing some sort of game with dominoes.

The men gave no apparent heed to our entrance, but I knew we were being discussed in their patiois.

We asked for bread, butter and a pitcher of cider, which was forthcoming, but no knives were brought. Noting our predicament, the three men at once produced their knives, immense horn-handled affairs, and after wiping them very carefully and considerably on their coat sleeves, they opened and proffered them to us.

"And now, madame," said I, "what shall I pay you?"

"Five sous for the cider, m'sieur. There is no charge for the bread, for is not that the gift of bon Dieu?"

Thus it is throughout this strange land of Brittany. One may travel from end to end away from the large cities, and everywhere meet with the same hospitality. The peasant will willingly share with you what he has in the cupboard, and will not ask for pay.

I left an offering of silver upon the window sill among the balls of woolen yarn.

PARTIALLY PREPARED.

A Georgia man tells of a minister in a town of that state who received a call from a large and wealthy parish in the north. In accordance with the usual custom, the clergyman requested time for prayer and consideration. A week or two elapsed. A friend, chancing to meet the youngest son of the divine, a lad of somewhat irreverent turn, asked:

"Well, Henry, how are things with your good father? Is he going north?"

"Dad," replied the son, "is still praying for light, but, sir, between you and me most of his things are packed."—Harper's Monthly.

FEARS.

"I'm so worried about the Christmas present I sent to Aunt Sarah," she says. "It only cost 49 cents, and I'm afraid I left the price mark on the thing when I sent it."

"I'm worried too," says her friend. "I got one that cost $50 for my uncle, and I'm afraid I didn't leave the price mark on it."—Life.

In 1912 You Will Elect a President THE AMERICAN REVIEW OF REVIEWS

is a necessity to the busy man or woman who values being up to date. In a hundred ways its editorials, its character sketches and its timely articles will help you make your choice. It gives you the best, clearest and most accurate, non-partisan and unprejudiced news that money can buy. It is the great monthly newspaper on which intelligent people everywhere rely for their news, and you get this news almost as promptly as it is given in the great daily newspapers of the country.

Senator La Follette says: "The most useful, accurate, and important review of the day. I long have utilized the magazine in its current issue as a valuable source of information."

Never will the Review of Reviews be more necessary than next year.

The American Boy
is a moral dynamo—a magazine devoted exclusively to the whole boy—a magazine that imbues the boy with high morals, honor and manliness. 600,000 boys are now enthusiastic readers every month.

The American Boy
contains stories of the things boys like to read about—adventure, travel, history, photography, stamps, electricity, carpentry, sports, current events, etc., all beautifully illustrated. And a department devoted to the Boy Scouts of America, to which Ernest Thompson Seton, Chief Scout, contributes an illustrated page each month. It is the best magazine for boys in all the world.

Give it to your boy! $1 for a whole year.

3,000,000 Matches a Minute.

It has been estimated that for each minute of time the civilized nations of the world strike 3,000,000 matches. This is said to be the average for every minute of the twenty-four hours of the day.

Fifteen hundred billion is the number for the entire year, and those persons who live under the American flag are charged with the consumption of one-half of this amount.

The importance of the industry which turns out the little splinters of wood tipped with sulphur or some material ignited by friction is only recognized when the average smoker tries to contemplate his predicament if he had to go back to the time when he had to coax a spark from the tinder box.

Small and insignificant as it is, the match demands as much attention in the choice of wood involved in its manufacture as any other forest product. Only the choicest portions of the best trees are suitable. Sapwood, knotty, or cross-grained timber will not do.

Instead of being a by-product, the match is turned out at hundreds of mills over the country where the by-products are bulky objects, like doors, sash, shingles, sidings, posts and cordwood.

The pines, linden, aspen, white cedar, poplar, birch and willow are the most suitable match timbers.—Scientific American.

Seven Grandmothers.

Adolph William Russell Hawkins, of Frankfort, Ky., is probably the most "grandmothered" boy in the Union. He has seven of them! Until last year he had eight, but one of them has died. First of all, Adolph has two everyday grandmothers. They are Mrs. Susan Mary Hawkins, of Lawrenceburg, and Mrs. Anne Peevler, of Harrodsburg. Then his great-grandmothers are Mrs. Elizabeth Peevler and Mrs. Angeline Peevler, of Harrodsburg, and Mrs. Mary Johnson and Mrs. Kittie Hawkins, of Lawrenceburg.

Now then, comes a perfectly good great-great-grandmother, in the person of Mrs. Lucretia Whittinghall, of Lebanon Junction.

MISS CHARLENE MAJOR

A Trigg County Girl Married In The Mormon Temple.

Mrs. W. W. Browning announces the marriage of her daughter Charlene Major to Mr. John W. Scowcroft Salt Lake Temple January 25, 1912.

The above announcement conveys news of the marriage of a Trigg county girl, a daughter of the late Hop Major, of Canton. Her mother, formerly Miss Nora McAtee, is now the wife of a wealthy citizen of Ogden, Utah, a member of the Mormon church, and Miss Major was married in the great Mormon Temple at Salt Lake. The news will be read with interest by the friends of Mrs. Browning in Christian and Trigg counties.

The bride is a most attractive and accomplished young lady.

Eley-Qualls.

Miss Bessie Qualls, formerly of this city, and Mr. F. H. Eley, of Santa Anna, Calif., were married Tuesday.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. Richard G. Qualls, who about a year ago, moved to California. They will be at home, Santa Anna, after Feb. 12.

Ware-Potts.

On January 24th, in Memphis, Tenn., Miss Ethelyn Potts, daughter of Rev. C. E. Potts, formerly of Covington, Ky., was married to Mr. Baxter Ware, a rising young lawyer of Memphis.

Gray-Winfree.

Mr. Ed C. Gray and Mrs. Mary Jessie Brownell Winfree were married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Brownell, on Walnut street at nine o'clock Tuesday evening.

Mosby-Pyle.

T. W. Mosby and Miss Alvie Pyle, young people of the Haley's Mill neighborhood, were married at the home of the bride Tuesday.

Davis-Crick.

A marriage license was issued Tuesday to B. J. Davis and Miss Frankie Myrtle Crick, young people living near Red Hill.

Houston, Tex.—"For five years," says Mrs. L. Fulechek, of this place, "I suffered with pains all over, especially in my back and side, and was so weak I could hardly do my housework. A friend told me of Cardui. Since taking it, I feel so much better! Now I can do all my housework and pains don't bother me any more at all." Cardui is a strength-building medicine. Fifty years of success have produced, amongst its many users, confidence in Cardui and what it will do. During this time, Cardui has relieved the female ailments of over a million women. Why not yours? Try it, today. Your druggist sells it.

The old saying is, that on Feb. 2 the ground hog comes out and sees his shadow, and goes back for forty days of winter. We hope it will be cloudy, so that he cannot see it.

Mr. James Bell and Miss Virginia Browning, who were married at Bowling Green Jan. 31, are now at the home of their friends on the L. M. Johnson place that he has bought.

Messrs L. M. Johnson and W. M. Williams, of Fairview, were here Saturday on business.

Mr. E. P. Bell and wife, of Bells Chapel, were in this section Monday.

Mr. J. E. Petrie spent several days this week with his father, Mr. J. W. Petrie, Sr., who has been sick for some time, and according to his extreme age it is feared that he will not recover.

AMUSEMENTS

"Gay New York."

In these times of utter disregard for motive in musical comedy, it is more than gratifying to know that in "Gay New York," which will have a hearing at Holland's Opera House Feb. 8, we are to have a musical entertainment fashioned on plot principles, and that the actors are not obliged to wade through an uncertain sea of merriment in order to insure an evening of rationally amusing pastime. Another and still greater joy will be the admiration of pretty girls, without inquiring into the reasons for their opportune appearance to sing and cavort in the most approved manner.

YEARS, STILL ALIVE

Mosquitoes Buried in Rock for Sixty Thousand Centuries as Frisky as Modern Sort.

Washington.—After lying dormant in larvae for sixty million years, two mosquitoes were born in Washington a day or so ago. Also, it being ascertained that they are yellow fever mosquitoes, just like the ones found in Central America, today they were immediately executed.

Some time ago Secretary of State Alva Adee received a small, curious prehistoric deposit from Brazil. Mr. Adee is a chemist, and analyzing the rock he found two minute larvae. This astonished him greatly, and he kept the embryonic animals to the agricultural department for further scientific investigation. Under treatment the larvae promptly developed into magnificent mosquitoes.

As the larvae were found in the interior of the rock, and Smithsonian institution experts regard the age of the earth as anywhere from 60,000,000 to 200,000,000 years, the minimum figure has been adopted as the probable age of the Brazilian mosquitoes.

INSURANCE REGULATION

Senate Bill Passes Regulating the Rates of Fire Underwriting Companies.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 31.—The senate voted unanimously Monday for the passage of Senator E. E. Hogg's bill providing for a state insurance board, the purpose of which will be to regulate the rates of all fire underwriting companies operating in Kentucky. It is asserted that in practically every section of the state, under the working of the proposed law, with the possible exception of the city of Louisville, the rates will be lopped off one-third. Tomorrow the bill will come up in the house. It is predicted it will pass.

As proposed, the board will consist of three members, one of whom is to be the state insurance commissioner. The other two will be appointed by the state auditor. The board will have full power to investigate any company doing business in Kentucky, to hear complaints and to fix rates.

Barksdale's Belated Boy.

Clarksville, Tenn., Jan. 29.—W. W. Barksdale, editor and proprietor of the Daily Leaf-Chronicle, wrote the happiest item of his life Saturday: "Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Barksdale a son. He has been christened William Wallace Barksdale." This is their first and only child.

Mrs. A. G. Boales, of Nashville, who spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. A. W. Pyle, returned home Tuesday.

UNCLE JOE'S PLAN

By M. DIBBELL

Mercy Schuyler wandered about the familiar rooms with sorrow tugging at her heart strings. Just three months ago her half-sister had been laid to rest, but it seemed like years to Mercy. Peace Schuyler had been fifteen years her elder, and had taken full charge of little Mercy left motherless when hardly old enough to walk. Peace was a quiet, self-contained person, and faithfully performed her duty toward the small sister who truly loved her.

Now Peace was gone, and Mercy must take up the old life alone after her long visit to distant relatives. This was the first day without her sister, and Mercy could not seem to settle down at her accustomed duties. When a timid knock sounded at the door she answered it gladly, to be confronted by a chubby youngster holding a ball of gray fur.

"Come in, Annie, I am delighted to see you," said lonely Mercy, but the little girl answered:

"Thank you, Miss Mercy, I can't come in, but mother thought you must feel lonesome and she said I might bring you one of my kittens," and she carefully passed over the gray ball, which gave a soft purr as it was pressed to Mercy's cheek.

"Thank you a thousand times, dear," Mercy stooped to kiss the child.

This was the very first kitten Mercy had ever possessed. The mite seemed to know that its task was to cheer up its new mistress, and played all sorts of pretty antics for her benefit, until at last it fell asleep in her lap.

As she sat with the kitten's head smuggled against her hand, another knock sounded at the door; and gently placing her little pet on a cushion Mercy started to find who was her second visitor. A very small girl, dressed in a slimy black rock, stood on the doorstep. Mercy recognized her as a had a real interest in life now, and the household of three entered upon a quiet but far from unhappy round of existence.

When Grace had been in her new home for over six months, a letter came addressed to Mrs. Mary Scranton, and was handed by the postmaster to Mercy Schuyler. Great was her surprise on reading it to Grace to find that the letter was from Mrs. Scranton's brother, informing her of his arrival in the United States, and that he should come at once to his sister. "So look for me just as soon as you receive this. I have lots of good news to tell you. Your long lost, but found forever and ever, brother, Joseph," the epistle concluded and Grace cried as Mercy read the name.

"Why, it must be uncle Joe, who was drowned in a shipwreck more than a year ago!"

Mercy smiled feebly. "It looks as if uncle Joe were not drowned after all," she said without much enthusiasm. Her face grew grave as she asked, "What shall I do if your uncle wants to take you away from me?"

"Oh, I just wouldn't go," answered her small adorer, twining both arms about Mercy's neck. "You are the one I love."

Mercy felt the joy of that childish caress, but a fear began to shape itself in her thought. What right had she to refuse him, if this new found uncle should claim his little niece?

The morning after the letter there came a sharp knock at Mercy Schuyler's door, and she opened it well knowing who it must be. A tall, fine looking much-bronzed man stood before her.

"Is this Miss Mercy Schuyler?" And, upon being assured that it was, he continued: "I am told that you have by little niece staying with you—can I see her?"

Following Mercy into the house he espied Grace standing near the window. He at once caught her up in his arms.

"You poor baby," he said in a broken voice. "To think you are all that is left to me on earth—but how glad I am that there is you," and he kissed her so lovingly that small Grace could not help giving him a small hug in return.

Then there followed the whole tale of his having been cast away on an uninhabited island with the half dozen others who were saved from the wrecked ship, as helpless prisoners, until their rescue only a few weeks back.

All his ventures had proved successful, and Joseph Granville had been hastening home to gladden his sister's heart with the news that she should live with him in ease and comfort.

Later the subject which Mary Schuyler dreaded was broached. "Grace will have to take her mother's place now, in caring for her lonely uncle. And believe me, Miss Mercy, you have my life long gratitude that you have so kindly cared for the baby." His sincerity was evident, but Mercy's face showed only sorrow, while Grace began to cry and cling close to her beloved guardian.

"I don't want to leave Miss Mercy," she sobbed.

Mercy asked: "What shall I do without my little girl?"

At first Joseph Granville looked nonplussed, then he took heart and said:

"It would not be showing much gratitude to rob you of the youngster if you want her; so perhaps it will be best for her to stay with you at present, and I will see if I can't win some of her affection for myself."

Mercy thanked him. "I should be simply desolate without Grace," she concluded.

Uncle Joe settled down as a boarder in a comfortable farm house near by, and spent most of his waking hours in the company of Mercy Schuyler and Grace.

Late one afternoon as they were returning from a walk, Grace running on ahead, Joseph Granville said to Mercy: "I have thought out a perfect plan to make Grace and myself happy, if only you will consent to it."

"Tell me what it is," commanded Mercy in quick alarm, and Joseph answered:

"Grace is beginning to like me, but she would never be content away from you; and I have followed Grace's example and fallen in love with her guardian. Won't you take us both for life? You are the dearest and best woman on earth," he ended fervently.

For a little space there was silence, then, "I think your plan is a good one," said Mercy at last, giving him a shy smile. "And I am willing to try it for all our sakes."

To Store Living Tissue.

The Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, has installed in its clinics the transplantation of animal tissue from one body to another. Experiments have convinced the experts that life can be saved by using part of a body, living or dead, of man or animal, on a patient.

The most striking feature of the method is that living material taken from one patient may be stored away and kept until there is need for its use in an operation on another. It has been found that tissue from a dog, stored away in an ice chest for eight days, grew successfully when grafted on the leg of a cat. In other experiments the material was kept for fifty days and grew when transplanted to another body.

Much human material, got in operations, is now thrown away. This will now be kept for use in the operating room. In 62 experiments on dogs the Hopkins physicians transplanted parts of the bodies from one animal to another and to animals of another kind with remarkable success.

DAQUERRETYPE COMES BACK

Prints on Silver Are Again Coming Into Fashion, Says a Photographer.

"People are inclined to smile at praise of the daguerreotype of our grand fathers," said a photographer the other day, "but I want to say that the photograph of the present day is no improvement on it for artistic delicacy, for beauty and for quality. In subtlety of likeness, nothing ever has equaled the daguerreotype of seventy years ago, and those who possess any of them should treasure them as the choicest heirlooms."

"Most styles move in cycles, and it is the same with photographs. Many photographers are taking up the daguerreotype again. In view of the advance in photography, it is now possible to make daguerreotypes that are permanent, for the originals were wont to fade when exposed to light. That's why they were always put in covered cases."

"There is at least one very good reason for the daguerreotype being better, and that is that there is nothing but the camera lens between the subject and the picture, and the only loss is the reversal of the subject. Another thing is that the highly polished silver plate of the daguerreotype makes possible the greatest amount of detail, and the softer shadings, much of which is lost in photographs today by the rough surface of the emulsion on the negative, by the opaqueness of the glass in printing, and the unevenness of the paper."

TO SOLVE AERIAL PROBLEMS

Hungarian Has Craft Which He Believes Will Fly Easily Across the Atlantic.

Alexander Kopesa, a retired Hungarian army officer, has planned an airship which he declares will solve all difficulties of aerial navigation. He will start to build what he calls his "perfect" airship on the first of the new year. "Regardless of the weather conditions in Chicago," he said, "I will make a trial flight on May 1, 1912. If the airship proves what I am positive it will, I will attempt to make a trip across the Atlantic ocean in September." The new flying device, he says, will travel on land or water as well as in the air. According to specifications filed with the patent office, the Kopesa airship will carry 46 passengers, and on land or water or in the air will make a speed of over a mile a minute. At the top of the contrivance will be a large compartment containing seven hydrogen bags for balancing and added safety. Another safety contrivance consists of four air-suction devices that resemble the fans of a windmill. From the base of the hydrogen bags will stretch two huge planes, spreading 229 feet from tip to tip. Just beneath the planes will be placed two engines, each of 560 horsepower. There will be 13 propellers.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Ignored His Inspiration.

"One day," said Representative Samuel W. McCall of Massachusetts, "I heard a perfectly good anecdote. It was about Thad Stevens. Stevens, then running the government during the Civil war, was walking down Pennsylvania avenue one morning with a colleague. They stopped in at George Parker's place, across from the old Willard, for a today, and before leaving Thad toyed for a few minutes with the faro bank and won $100—a hundred dollar bill. Resuming his walk, he was accosted on the capital steps by a Quaker delegation from Pennsylvania, some of his constituents, who said they were interested in a worthy charity in his district, and would like to receive a contribution. Thad took the hundred dollar bill from his pocket and, with a grand flourish, handed it to the spokesman, who was profuse in his thanks. Turning away, Mr. Stevens said to his companion, 'God moves in a mysterious way. His wonders to perform.'"

"Well, I liked that anecdote. The more I thought of it the more I liked it, and finally I became interested in the career of Stevens and wrote his biography." But, do you know, after it was published I discovered that I had forgot to put the anecdote in the book.
Motor Trucks Need No Rest.

In a paper read before the Electric Vehicle Association of America, Mr. Hayden Eames called attention to the fact that horse-drawn vehicles must remain idle for a certain portion of the day in order to rest the horses. A recent investigation showed that the teams of the different express companies in New York city were idle 40 per cent. of the total working hours, much of this idleness being due to the fact that the horses needed rest, and that the periods of loading the wagons had to be suited to these rest hours. The motor vehicle on the other hand requires no rest, and hence requires no adjustment of the loading hours.

Big Money Needed.

Consumption might be wiped out if enough millions or billions are donated for the experts to use in accordance with their ideas. Perhaps some of the great cities of the world are rich enough to care for and try to cure the consumptives from every smaller city, town or hamlet accessible by railroad or steamboat. What is most needed costs money, and that "what" is plenty of good food and warm clothing, and maybe it is worth while

OCEAN RAILWAY
Flagler's Great Route From Miami to Key West.

When the Florida East Coast railroad last week opened up its extension from Knight's Key to Key West, the most remarkable piece of railroad engineering the world ever knew—that of laying track over bridges and islands 120 miles out to sea—had been completed and put in service.

This railroad has ordered a number of swift car ferries for a service between Key West and Havana, 90 miles across the Straits of Florida, so that by the end of this month there will be what is practically a single railroad from Jacksonville, Florida, to Santiago de Cuba, at the far southeastern end of the island of Cuba.

After crossing a 30-mile arm of the everglades on an embankment built by dredges out of the blue mud of the swamp, the railroad starts out on its voyage over a succession of coral rock keys separated by narrow straits of gulf water scarcely wider than creeks. Key Largo, 27 miles long, is crossed, and then the road approaches Long Key, thence out upon the largest viaduct of the route—two miles of reinforced concrete abutments and arches, holding the track 31 feet above blue water. From a Knight's Key to Big Pine Key the most difficult part of the work was reached. In this stretch of 14 miles of bridge, in water 30 feet deep and very rough during storms, in addition to being constantly agitated by fierce tidal currents. Thence to Key West the road runs along the backs of large isands separated by deep, but not wide channels.

BROUSSARD ASSURED
Of Seat In Senate By Withdrawal of Gov. Sanders.

BUY YOUR GROCERIES AT FORBES' IN 1912.

Why not make this one of your "resolutions" for the new year? You want to save all you can, of course; that's why we suggest that you come and try trading with us once. There are other reasons too---and they are almost as important as the saving proposition. For instance--we have the newest and freshest stock of groceries in town, no old shelf-worn, dusty, dirty stuff; we buy in the largest quantities and pay spot cash for same. And as to our prices, although we "don't raise much fuss" about it, WE ALWAYS MEET COMPETITION on anything in our line. Now if you don't believe we do this, call us up at any time and see. We could give you many other reasons why we are "just as nice" as the other fellows, but we'd rather show you. So come give us a trial anyway.

CARELESS USE
Of Gasoline Causes a Fire That Might Have Been Worse.

A fire alarm was turned in Tuesday about noon from W. E. Penn's barber shop on East Ninth street, but the fire was quickly extinguished by the firemen. Penn has a clothes cleaning department and a boy was engaged in washing some clothing with gasoline near a stove. Someone opened the stove door and the gasoline on the clothing caught with a flash and the clothes were destroyed. The firemen found a gasoline can in the room, but an explosion was avoided. The damage was small, about $30 or $40.

Burnt Cork Artists are Coming

Hundreds will remember the visit of the Moredock and Watson Famous Minstrels to this city several seasons ago, and the thoroughly refined and pleasing performance they presented. They are returning on next Saturday night with a greatly augmented organization, carrying their own band and orchestra and with other features that round out an eminently pleasing minstrel entertainment.

Headed by Messrs. Moredock and Watson, "The Ragtime Kings," they are popularly known, the company includes Billy Van Allen, "The Virginia Minstrel," Clinton Delmar, America's youngest and most artistic impersonator of the feminine sex. The Chiquet Brothers, the De Mars and in all nearly a score of sweet singers and mirth provokers.

From the rise of the curtain until the final of the show one continuous round of mirth and music, presented in the cleanest and most attractive way, is offered for the amusement of all classes and ages. Remember the day and date; for one performance only.
